It's been a tough couple of weeks in the market.

And that's putting it mildly. It's no surprise that earnings season is upon us. On Thursday, Amazon and Alphabet shocked Wall Street by beating on bottom lines, but disappointing when it came to the top lines.

When TheStreet recorded the podcast on Friday, Oct. 26, the markets were still reeling from the tech darlings failing to deliver. Facebook reports on Tuesday, Oct. 30.

Another company that may be a market mover is Apple AAPL , which will report on Thursday, Nov. 1. The company will wrap up the FANG earnings.

Other companies for investors to keep an eye on include Electronic Arts EA , Amgen AMGN , Under Armour UAA , Yum! Brands YUM , and Aetna AET .
